Advisory Committee on Novel Foods and Processes and Committee on Toxicity on CBD and Hemp Derived Products

CBD Subgroup

Updated: 6th March 2025.

Joint ACNFP-COT CBD Sub-Group meetings: 11 Sept 2024 (0.5 day); 6 Nov 2024 (0.5 day); Final meeting of this sub-group 22 Jan 2025 (0.5 day). This sub-group is Chaired jointly by ACNFP Chair Camilla Alexander-White and COT Chair Alan Boobis. The work of this sub-group has been completed over approximately 2.5 years. The major outputs are;

- a) Scientific advice on a safe 10 mg/day intake of Group A >98% pure form CBD ingredients; FSA guidance published in October 2023, the first of its kind in the world. Ongoing phase 2 review of data Oct 2023-Dec 2024, assuring guidance remains sound.
- b) A review and development of health-based guidance of THC as a controlled substance in food. Document being reviewed by ACNFP and COT before publication in 2025.
- c) A review of data for Group B CBD ingredients (mixtures of cannabinoids). Advice to ACNFP to treat applications on a case-by-case basis.
- d) A review of Group C – hemp derived ingredients. Advice to ACNFP to treat applications on a case-by-case basis.
- e) Collation of all original toxicology study data in a 'CBD evidence base' for the FSA to build upon going forward.
- f) A brief to FSA leadership on the contradiction between scientific and legal requirements to assure the safety of CBD under Novel Foods Regulation.

ACNFP-COT Subgroup meeting January 2025: Final official meeting of the Subgroup. members reviewed the toxicological profiling of Group C CBD and hemp derived products. The next steps for the group were confirmed and the safety of these applications will be sought in upcoming meetings from the Advisory Committee on Novel Foods and Processes (ACNFP) and Committee on Toxicity (COT).

The subgroup discussed development of a database of the data supplied to support novel food applications for CBD, including a review of a previously discussed group A application. This will support formation of a database in the next few months. A review of Lachenmeier et al 2023, which is a published paper outlining an alternative approach to identifying an ADI for CBD was reviewed. Comparison was made to the approach in the joint ACNFP and COT statement. It was agreed to add the paper to the wider dataset on highly purified CBD.

Next ACNFP-COT meeting: N/A, as the work of the Subgroup has now ended no further official meetings will be held. Advice from members will still be sought whilst the CBD work is ongoing, however.

Recruitment process for four new ACNFP members (December 2024).

A new ACNFP-CPP sub-group (2025-2027): Discussions were held in November to finalise the scope and terms of reference for a new ACNFP subgroup on cell cultivated products (ACNFP-CCP). The subgroup will be supporting the FSA in testing out new types of assessment for CCPs, as part of a government sponsored regulatory sandbox project in this new area of food innovation. The Sub-Group will be Chaired by ACNFP member Huw Jones. An open session will be held on 5 February to inform the subgroup's work, which will start in February 2025 for a 2-year duration.

Next ACNFP meeting: 24th April 2025 (Virtual).

Next ACNFP-PGT meeting: 13th May 2025, in person and dial in.
